Tech Group Reflection

The Tech Group was a beneficial and informative learning experience I will use in my upcoming Computer Application classes. I experienced many applications that will be usable in the future for my classes. I selected the Wikispaces application to place my weekly journals to facilitate grading and feedback with my classes. The information I received in the Study Group demonstrated the positive impact this type of technology can have on the classroom.

The comments and discussion in the Study Group enhanced the presentations, by allowing for sharing of ideas and experiences others have had in their classroom. This helped me to formulate ideas for my classes and implement the use of the Wikispaces.

The next step for me is to put together the site information, and put the Wikispace to use for my upcoming classes. The positive impact for my classes will be the saving of paper; and the connection and feedback capabilities of the site. I have previously used on-line posting for my journals, but was never able to give feedback to the students. With this space in place I will now be more timely in my feedback and I expect better communication to occur with my students.
